

A Warrior and a Pioneer

Travis Black, a 2010 graduate of Spartanburg Christian Academy and SCA basketball standout, is actively pursuing his dream of playing professional basketball overseas. Travis, pictured left in the picture, moved from Dublin, Ireland to Spartanburg to attend SCA and begin his journey of playing basketball in America. Travis knew the experiences of playing college basketball in America would best prepare him for a future in professional basketball in Europe.

He is now a freshman at Spartanburg Methodist College and is getting attention from everyone who watches him play. "I think he is just starting to come into his own and be comfortable in adjusting to the college game," Spartanburg Methodist head coach Jeff Brookman said. "I wanted him right out of Spartanburg Christian. And he's such a great kid."

Travis has helped lead the Spartanburg Methodist Pioneers to the NJCAA championship tournament being held this week. SCA wishes Travis all the best in pursuing his dreams and is so proud to be part of his journey!
