Mrs. Hamlet's 4th grade class has been studying the history of Groundhog Day. They have a chart of the times and results of Punxsutawney Phil's shadow since 1887!

They had a contest among their class predicting the time Phil would see his shadow. Dru Guy and Lexie Cox both won the contest, guessing 7:25 am. Phil saw his shadow this year predicting six more weeks of winter. Maybe there's a chance of snow for us after all!

Mrs. Sheila Conway's daughter, Elizabeth, recently received a teaching award for being the top psychology graduate student professor. Elizabeth is working on her Ph. D. in Psychology at East Tennessee State.

Mrs. Sheila Conway surprised her husband with a new puppy for Christmas. They adopted him from the Anderson Humane Society and named him "Buddy." Isn't he cute?
